

*Saturday, Sept. 10, 2016
8:00 A.M. - 5:30 P.M.*

*Harvard University
Graduate School of Education
Longfellow Hall - Askwith Hall
13 Appian Way
Cambridge, MA 02138*

The Askwith Hall is part of the Longfellow Hall at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Longfellow Hall is located on Appian Way, a short walk from the Harvard Square T stop on the Red Line.

EOI
EYE ON I

www.eyeni.org
EyeOnI.Info@gmail.com
Phone: 508-474-3664

Registration Fee: $150

EOI
EYE ON I

Saturday, Sept. 10, 2016
8:00 A.M. - 5:30 P.M.

Harvard University
Graduate School of Education
Longfellow Hall - Askwith Hall
13 Appian Way, Cambridge, MA 02138
www.eyeni.org

Eye on I for high EQ

WHO TO ATTEND

This day-long workshop is appropriate for anyone who is looking for a transformative change for happy living. It benefits a wide range of audience including teenagers, parents, working professionals, and wisdom seekers.

WHY TO ATTEND

This workshop will help attendees hone their emotional quotient (EQ) to better manage internal emotions and external interactions for effective collaboration, communication, teamwork, and conflict resolution.

Ego, as we all know, is an inseparable and perpetual companion of every conscious being. Yet, we often call ego despicable. As much as we love to scorn ego, ours or others, it is an existential imperative. Seated at the epicenter of our consciousness, it shapes our intentions, drives our actions, and plays on our feelings, good or bad. Though universal, ego manifests in different levels, forms, and temperaments. An unchecked ego is a dictator who could land us in troubles. In contrast, a tamed ego is a friend who could foster our wellbeing and social coexistence.

The present workshop, Eye on I, discusses why we ought to and how we can cultivate ego to attain happiness and avert self-inflicted suffering. The underlying message is “educate but not eradicate ego.” Drawing inspiration from nature and its principles, the speaker of the workshop, Dr. Sriram Gajula, delves into the subject of ego with engaging real life examples to offer us fresh insights for joyful living in synergy with our domesticated companion, I.

Saturday, Sept. 10, 2016, 8:00 A.M. - 5:30 P.M.
Harvard University
Graduate School of Education
Longfellow Hall - Askwith Hall
13 Appian Way, Cambridge, MA 02138

WHO THE SPEAKER

Dr. Sriram Gajula is an eminent spiritual scientist, philosopher, author, speaker, seer and sage. He holds a BS in Science and PhD in English from Osmania University, India. He is well read and well informed by his extensive travels around the world. He is a much-sought-after advisor and speaker globally. His philosophical discourses and writings cover such complex and intriguing subjects as divinity in nature, smiling tears, cosmic communism, evil and freewill.

www.eyeni.org
Phone: 508-474-3664
Email: EyeOnI.Info@gmail.com
Registration Fee: $150